Your Excellency:

We are deeply concerned about the health and welfare of Mansour Ossanlu, leader of the Syndica Sherkat-e Vahed bus workers union. He suffers from a number of serious health concerns. Recent reports suggest that he is currently being serving a five-year sentence in Evin Prison after conviction in 2007 for “acts against national security” and “propaganda against the regime,” even though he was merely working peacefully to obtain better conditions for workers in Iran and to end discrimination in employment. We encourage you to ensure his safety as well as provide him with access to all medical necessary to preserve his health and well being.

Amnesty International considers Mansour Ossanlu to be a Prisoner of Conscience, and we therefore request that he be immediately and unconditionally released from prison. We further urge you to release all union leaders who have been imprisoned for peaceful activism on behalf of their rights to form independent trade unionists.
